A Message from Principal McKee

Dear Timpview Families,

Happy New Year! Let me begin by saying how grateful we are for the generosity of our community as we were able to raise more than $27,000 and assist 54 local families in our Sub for Santa program. Your generosity helped our students reach this incredible goal, and in so doing, they have learned about service and charity during an important time of the year for so many in the community. Thank you once again. (See page 2 for a report of donation totals.)

As we begin the new semester, I encourage all of our students to set high academic goals for themselves and commit to doing their very best. We oftentimes see some students begin to slide somewhat academically during the third semester. This may be due to a number of factors, including the flu season. I remember very clearly my father’s advice when I was a student and didn’t feel well. He would say something to the effect that I wasn’t going to feel any better at home, so I might as well go to school and not fall behind. Obviously this advice cuts both ways, as we want all of our students be in class, but we definitely don’t want sick students infecting others. Please use good judgment.

Nevertheless, if all of our students will commit themselves to attending all of their classes and being on time, I am sure that they will finish the year reaching their goals.

It’s a great time to be a T-Bird!

–Todd

Sub for Santa

Thanks to everyone in the Timpview community for helping the school exceed its goal—raising just shy of $27,000 for Sub for Santa. We were able to help more than 50 local families, including families at Timpview, Provo, Centennial, Wasatch, Edgemont, and other schools. A special thank-you to Ms. Sierra Penrod (English), whose classes raised more than one-half of the class collection total and nearly one-tenth of the grand total: $2,392 dollars!

Yearbooks

Senior Ads Deadline: 17 January!

If you are interested in placing a Senior Ad in the yearbook for your graduating senior, you can find pricing and submission information here or through the Timpview website directory under the Yearbook tab. The deadline for Senior Ad submissions is Friday, 17 January.

Sale Price Extended

Yearbooks are still on sale for the historic low price of $50 per book. The price will likely return to $65 in the spring. Many students think they paid for a yearbook with their school fees in August, when in fact they didn’t. Check with the financial office, and if you haven’t purchased one yet, buy now to pay less.

Congratulations, T-Birds!

Sterling Scholars 2013–14

The following outstanding students were named Timpview Sterling Scholars for 2013–14. Judging and selection of semi-finalists and then finalists will take place in February. The 53rd Annual Deseret News/KSL Sterling Scholar Awards Ceremony is scheduled for Wednesday, 12 March, 7:00 P.M. at Cottonwood High School.

They will perform in a concert on Saturday, 18 January, 2:00 P.M., at Abravanel Hall in Salt Lake City, under the direction of Dr. James M. Bankhead, Music Department Head at Utah State University.

Art

Several Timpview students are participating in the 10th Annual Statewide High School Art Competition at the Utah State University Eastern campus in Price, 13 January–6 February. The competition gives students the opportunity to create and frame noteworthy art and to present their work in a juried show with peers. (For more information, click here.) Out of more than 400 entries, the works of these students were juried into the show:

- Alaina Bastian
- Joseph Moulton
- Jace Torrens
- Emma Barlow
- Rodrigo Ottaviano
- Alexis Linford
- Eva Stilson
- Jasmine Ostler

Orchestra & Band

For the second year in a row Timpview has placed more students in the All-State Orchestra than any other high school in the state. Timpview participants are the following:

- Lauren Blair
- Sophie Blair
- Peter Young
- Audrey Hudgens
- Mary Nielsen
- Analeia George
- Catherine Cranney
- Jennifer Lee
- Ethan Sherman
- Raya Esplin

US Senate Youth Program

Rachel Sybrowsky has been selected as one of two Utah student delegates to the US Senate Youth Program (USSYP) in Washington, DC, 8–15 March. The selection comes with a $5,000 college scholarship. The USSYP was founded in 1962 through Senate Resolution. Each year, two of the highest-achieving students from each state, the District of Columbia, and the Department of Defense Education system overseas are selected through an extremely competitive, merit-based selection process held at each state’s department of education. This selection is a huge honor—both for Rachel and for Timpview. Rachel is also Timpview’s 2013–14 Social Science Sterling Scholar (see page 4).
PTA President’s Message

Hello Timpview families!

Welcome back to school! I hope you all had a refreshing and happy Christmas break. I wish you all a great new year ahead—in school and in your families. We have several PTA activities this month. The first is choosing our Golden Apple teachers for the year. This is a great way to recognize some of the wonderful teachers who do their best to teach our children. In English classes on 13 and 14 January (Monday and Tuesday), students will be able to nominate teachers who have helped them. Two teachers will receive the Golden Apple Award from Timpview.

The second PTA activity—the Battle of the Bands—is directed by the PTSA (the student group of PTA). Any band comprised of Timpview students can compete. The school winner goes on to compete against other bands from the region; bands can then move on to competition at the state or even national level. (For more details, see the article on this page.)

The PTA is also encouraging students to take advantage of the ACT Prep class that will be starting this week. It is a great way for students, especially for juniors, to prepare for and improve their score on the ACT test. We are very lucky to have this prep class at Timpview for such a reasonable cost ($50). This class was organized about five years ago by two PTA members, Mitzi Collins and Michelle Kaufusi. They both had strong feelings about helping Timpview students be ready for college. They have both spent countless hours in preparing and teaching this class. We are grateful for their meaningful contribution to our school.

Have a great January!

—Tricia Stoddard, PTA President 2013–14

Applications due 27 January

Timpview’s Battle of the Bands will be held Thursday, 6 February, during an extended lunch period. The Battle of the Bands is an annual competition sponsored by the PTSA. The winning band at the school level can move on to regional, state, and national competition.

Bands may pick up application packets in the main office; packets are due Monday, 27 January. For more information, contact Jennifer Doyle (801-362-8156) or Seth Doyle (timpviewbattleofthebands@gmail.com).

Reflections

Congratulations to Tanner Albertson (3-D) and Jessica Holcombe (Literature), who were selected to move on to regional competition in this year’s Reflections contest. A big thanks to Lisa Olsen for once again serving as chair of Timpview’s Reflections committee.

The 2014–15 Reflections theme will be “The World Would Be a Better Place If . . . . “ Because the entry deadline comes so early in the school year, we encourage students to start thinking now and to spend Summer Break creating. For more information, go to www.utahpta.org/reflections.

 deductive and higher-level thinking, besides just being lots of fun.

• New Book in the Library

_I Am Malala: The Girl Who Stood up for Education and Was Shot by the Taliban_ by Malala Yousafzai and Christina Lamb is a riveting read about the Pakistani teen who wasn’t afraid to advocate for education even though the Taliban was specifically targeting schools. Her story is both current and fascinating.

✓ Textbook Check-in Process

To help remove some of the confusion that surrounded textbook check-in last year, we wanted parents to understand the process.

Textbooks now have a Timpview barcode. When students check out a textbook, the barcode is scanned and appears on their record. To clear their record, they need to check in the same textbook with the same barcode. Otherwise the textbook remains on their record.

Two things contributed to the confusion:

1) Often students checked in a textbook with a barcode different than the one checked out to them. Because they had returned a book, they thought the process was complete, and they complained vehemently to parents when their record showed they still had the very book they had returned.

2) Many students ignored deadlines and returned books late or even after school had ended. At that point the books had been marked lost and the replacement fees had been assigned to their financial record. That added another step to the check-in process as well as another software database. With the sheer volume of books returned at that point, mistakes were made because students’ books didn’t always get checked in through the library or their records cleared through the financial office.

Hopefully, reminding your students to meet deadlines for returning textbooks and ensuring they are returning textbooks with the correct barcodes will reduce angst and improve their experience all the way around!

–Pat Gerstner, librarian

• Altered Book Art Contest

The Library and Book Club, in collaboration with the Art Department, announce the third annual Altered Book Art Contest. An altered book is defined by the International Society of Altered Book Artists as “any book, old or new, that has been recycled by creative means into a work of art.” This competition is the ultimate recycling and problem-solving activity, a wonderful opportunity to look at something in a new way and reinvent it. It is also a creative way to promote literacy. Last year one student said that she was going to participate in the contest, but she started reading her book and couldn’t bear to alter it!

The contest is open to all Timpview students, and entry forms can be picked up in the library or from any art teacher. Entries are due on Friday, 28 February, at 2:30 P.M. and will be on display in the art gallery during parent teacher conference.

• Name that Book Contest

Name that Book Reading Contest kicks off this month. Students form teams of five and collaboratively read the contest list of books over the next three months. During two days of the week following Spring Break, teams compete to identify quotes from those books. This contest focuses on the author’s style and the book’s theme and is a great exercise in Important Concurrent Enrollment Information

Students in a second semester Concurrent Enrollment (CE) class need to be aware that UVU Spring semester deadlines come quickly with little time in the new semester before the application period and registration close.

UVU Spring application and registration opened 1 November 2013. Timpview students should plan now and be prepared in class before the deadlines hit.

The table on the right contains a list of second semester high school courses being offered with college credit and their UVU Course Registration Numbers (CRNs).

Students wanting to receive college credit will need to be admitted to UVU and receive a UVID student number to participate. Apply to UVU at www.uvu.edu/concurrent.

Click on the “Start Here” button, then “Get Admitted Online” (Step One). Complete the High School Concurrent Enrollment Spring 2014 application, and pay the one-time $35 admit fee. Applications take up to 48 hours to process, so plan accordingly. After receiving a UVID via email, students need to go online and register through the UVLink portal for the course credit available in their high school class. See Mrs. Pulver before the registration deadline if you do not receive your email from UVU.

Sophomores in Concurrent Enrollment Classes

Sophomores in a CE class can participate by application. Students must fill out and complete all the steps listed on the Concurrent Enrollment “Sophomore by Exception” application. This application can be found on the THS website (click “College Planning” under the “Counseling-Register” tab) or at www.uvu.edu/concurrent under the “High School Student” tab.

Sophomore applicants must take the full UVU Accuplacer Student Assessment exam. Assessments exams are $10 and handed out on a walk-in basis at the Wolverine Testing Center on the UVU campus. For testing hours, call 801-863-6025.

Questions? Contact Mrs. Pulver in the THS media center: 801-221-9720 extension 3680

Things to Remember:

UVU deadlines are strict and must be adhered to:
- 22 January—UVU Admission and Sophomore by Exception application
- 24 January—UVU Course Registration

All students participating in Concurrent Enrollment must meet the GPA requirements:
- Minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 for participation in academic courses
- Minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 for career and technical courses
